

ago & if you like I c<sup>d</sup>. write to him to let a note for you. I h<sup>op</sup>e you he going to Somerset House Mr. Wilkes c<sup>d</sup>. I dare say tell you thro' of an Fellow, an acquainted with Donati, or Sechi who has been over here - by your old introductions in that way.

The Baron Dembariski, who is a great death-stain-mesurer, has just set up a very fine 7 inch Merz the Gallarate, a town which there is a sail of some 25 miles from Milan.

I saw yesterday a very fine silvered speculum Newtonian of 8 inches aperture
