

here for the term of my Incumbency - & so completely are they left that I have had to pay a heavy Succession duty. I thought in my unlucky mind that this would enable me (not of course to cut timber - I was not quite such a rascal) but to keep off others while in possession - nevertheless the Trustees have been marking some trees which I shall be very sorry to lose.

The estate is in trust - the whole of it. - Can you (at least I am sure you can, but will you) kindly tell me whether I can object to this act of the Trustees?

Yr friend & trust

Yr. ever loving & obliged

J. W. Webb